

New York City

Don't forget about the neighbourhoods of New York!
I recommend you visit Brooklyn, Chinatown and Little Italy.

New York City is known as “The City That Never Sleeps” or “The Big Apple”. In New York, you can visit plenty of attractions. One of the most famous is Central Park. This park is huge, with an area of 3.41 kilometres squared. In Central Park there is a lake, a meadow and even a castle called Belvedere.

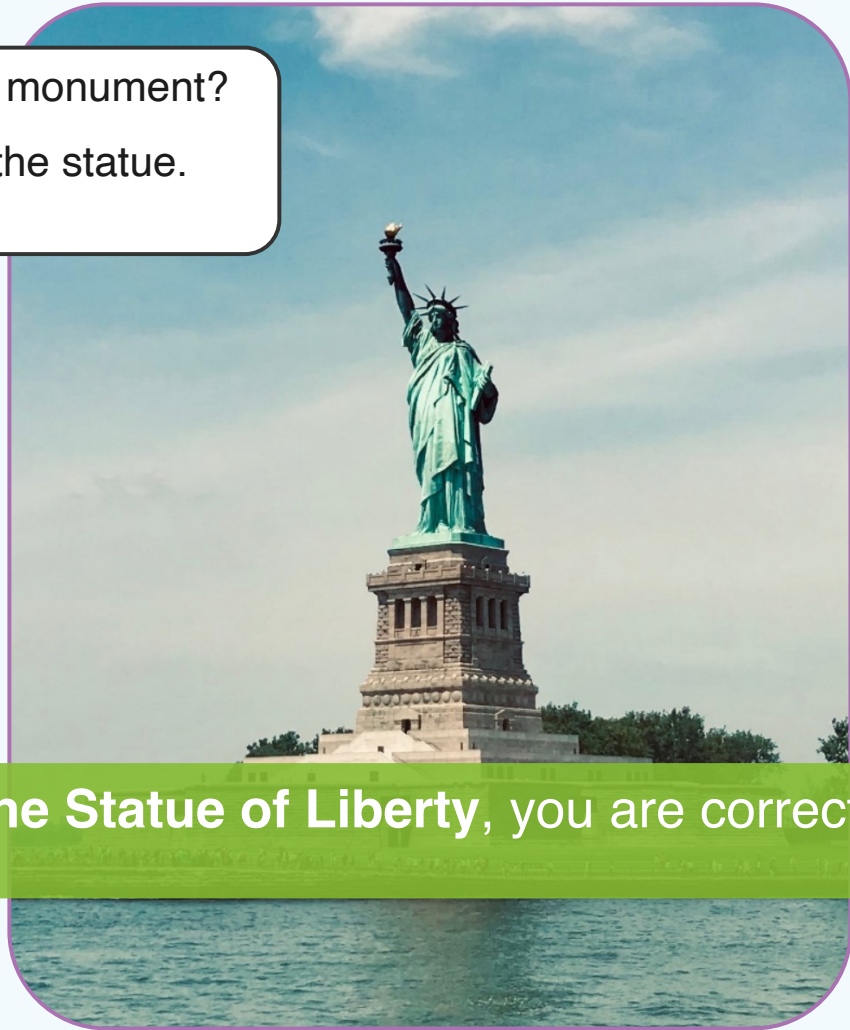

New York is the largest city in the USA. It has very high skyscrapers like the Empire State Building, which is 381 metres high. That's so tall!

Mexico

I love Mexico! It is a country with so much history. The first place I am going to take you is the Pyramid of the Sun. Let's go!

The Pyramid of the Sun is a monument in Teotihuacan and from the Aztec civilisation. This civilisation was very important in Mexico. You can still find remains across the country. The pyramid is 220m high and is a protected heritage site.

I recommend that you visit Mexico in October and November. It's when they celebrate the Day of the Dead! It is a stunning festival, where Mexicans pay tribute to those who have passed away. Mexico fills with colour and happiness, and I would recommend that you take a walk through the streets at this time!

We can't go to Mexico without trying some of their food! Can you name some Mexican foods?
