Because if Quebec was separated from Canada, it would face economic disaster, and that people would not survive like they used to.

P107

I agree, because what the Quebec wanted to do was to be "independent" when they were wanting an isolation on the territory, but also on the prioritized language, meanwhile, still didn't wanted to cut the economic resources from Canada, meaning they would still needed financial support. That was greed and unhumanian to have those thoughts.

P108

1.a) Canada's Leadership and Quebec Leadership

	Leader	Date	Events
Canada	Trudeau	1968	In 1968, he made Canada officially bilingual/in 1981, he and the ten provincial premiers agreed about the Charter and other parts of the constitution.
	Brian Mulroney	1984	in 1987, he and ten other premiers had an agreement.
Quebec	Rene Levesque	1980	In 1980, he softened his position on outright independent nationhood for Quebec.

c) I think that the francophone Quebecers have a stronger sense of identity when their province than other Canadians have with theirs. Since when Trudeau government announced that the government services will be written in both English and French, most of the Quebecers thought that French should be prioritized than English, and that the French culture is ahead of Canada's culture.
