

A sailor went to sea	(6)	(sea sea sea) 8
To see what he could see	(6)	(see see see) 8
But all that he did see	(6)	(see see see) 8
Was the bottom of the deep blue sea	(9)	(sea sea sea) 11

Haikus tend to focus on:

1. a brief moment in time
2. juxtaposing two images,
3. creating a sudden sense of wonder and insight

“In a Station of the Metro” by Ezra Pound

The apparitions
Of these faces in the crowd
Petals on wet boughs

Here’s the original

“In a Station of the Metro” by Ezra Pound

The apparition of these faces in the crowd;
Petals on a wet, black bough.

garden my flight cool fills takes butterflies their with are spirit a wings

Butterflies are cool
A garden fills with their wings
My spirit takes flight