

1.Echo was a nymph. Hera disliked her because she distracted Hera, preventing her from catching Zeus with other nymphs.

2.Hera cursed Echo to only repeat the last words of others.

3.Narcissus fell in love with his own reflection in a pool, stayed there until he died, and was turned into a narcissus flower.

4.When looking in the mirror, I might think about my appearance, my mood, or what I need to do that day.

5.Maybe not. A narcissist is someone overly self-absorbed, like Narcissus who loved his own reflection, relating directly to the myth.
